Wedding Cookies for Charity!

Posted Monday, May 24, 2010 12:27 PM

Adding a charitable component to your wedding just got a little easier... and more delicious!

We're in love with these wedding-themed sugar cookies from New York-based, online bakery Baking for Good. Starting at $35 a dozen, it's perfect for bridal luncheons, reception favors or just for fun.

But cuteness aside, the best part about these treats is that 15 percent of every purchase -- including other goodies like brownies, blondies, shortbread and whoopie pies -- is donated to the cause of your choice. (We especially adore the local love to organizations like City Harvest, Fresh Air Fund and the Boys' Club of New York!)
