

Food Thursday, April 22, 2010

10 life-saving buys (that you'd want anyway)

by Sarah Fuss, Shine Staff, 15 hours ago

Baking for Good

This online bakery is based on the idea of a bake sale -- enticing baked goods that go to benefit a worthwhile cause. The company, recently started by a 23-year-old baker-idealist, has partnered with over 100 national and local non-profit organizations and community causes, such as local school groups or marathon teams, and gives 15% of every order to the organization of the customer's choice. We loved the idea, so the company sent us one of their favorite pastries: Peppermint Brownies. We recommend. HIGHLY.